Research Interests and Approach

My research interests span computer-supported cooperative work (CSCW), science and technologies studies (STS), and critical human-computer interaction (HCI), and especially how to develop, maintain, and evolve a distributed decentralized software system that builds on a novel and sophisticated coordination architecture that addresses reinterpretability, resilience, and scalability.

I use case study research approach to address complex socio-technical questions, which includes ethnography (interviews and non-participant observations), archival analysis, quantitative collection of log and trace data with Python, SQL, and R, and a combination of all of these methods (mixed-methods) as relevant and appropriate.

Education

Carnegie Mellon University Pittsburgh, PA, USA
2017–present	Postdoctoral Researcher Advisor: James Herbsleb, Institute for Software Research, School of Computer Science Topic: Large-scale coordination in time-bounded events (hackathons, datathons, etc.) for science, innovation, learning, and community building, and open-text projects on GitHub
Nanyang Technol	ogical University Singapore, Singapore
2010–2016	Doctor of Philosophy in Information Systems Advisor: Dion Hoe-Lian Goh and Chei Sian Lee, Wee Kim Wee School of Communication and Information Thesis: Investigating user-centered human computation games: The role of perceived enjoyment and its antecedents
2008–2009	Master of Science in Information Systems
University of Con	nputer Studies
2001–2005	Bachelor of Science (Hons.) in Computer Science

Employment

Carnegie Mellon University Pittsburgh, PA, USA
2017–present	Postdoctoral Researcher Advisor: James Herbsleb, Institute for Software Research, School of Computer Science Topic: Coordination in time-bounded events (hackathons, datathons, etc.) for science, innovation, learning, and community building, and collaborative writing on GitHub
Nanyang Technological University
2015–2016	Research Associate and Part-time Lecturer
NCS	Application Consultant (Software Developer)
2007 2010	Application Consultant (Software Developer)
University of Computer Studies
2005–2007	Tutor
